NAB LAST OF BOX CAR ROBBER TRIO

Lottie Malahski Will Spend Twelfth Consecutive Christmas in Jail—Regarded as Clever Leader.

Lottie Malahski, 442 S. Warren st., will spend his 12th consecutive Christmas in jail this year as the result of breaking into box cars in the Chicago, Indiana and Southern railroad yards last spring. He will have a cell companion in Joe Lapezynski, 1797 W. Sample st., while G. E. Shannon, chief special agent of the C. I. & S. and the local police plan a reunion behind the bars for them with a third member of a trio which has caused railroads in this vicinity much trouble by its depredations.

South Bend is the headquarters of the three. The authorities have been awaiting their opportunity since April 18 last to catch Malahski. They have been able to place their hands on Lapezynski for some time and arrested him Saturday. Malahski was caught Sunday. He is said to have practically admitted the charges made against him.

Last week Malahski, Lapezynski and the other member of the small band broke into a car in the C. I. & S., according to the police, and stole a quantity of merchandise. When he was captured Malahski told the police where they could find some of the stolen goods at his home. Under a pile of rubbish in the back yard Shannon and Martin Zgodzinski, of the detective squad who was assigned to aid the railroad agent, unearthed an electric flat iron. Malahski also told them where to find a large number of colanders stolen from the car, most of which were buried in Oliver's field, he said.

Suspicion was directed toward Malahski and his companions at the time of the car robbery last April when they were alleged to have stolen about 40 front shoulders. Shannon and the police went to the house the next day and found some pork hidden in two wash tubs in the barn. Lottie did not come back home until early the next morning and was warned in time to escape with Lapezynski.

They walked to Walkerton and from there made their way to Indianapolis. Lottie returned in August, but his stays were so short and he kept under cover so carefully Shannon was unable to land him. The next heard of him after one of these visits was that he had been arrested in Michigan City for some offense committed there and had jumped his bond. He came to South Bend not long ago and renewed his old tricks.

Malahski has served four terms in prison and is regarded as the most dangerous man of the trio. The capture of the third man will put a damper on the ambition of other box car robbers in this vicinity, it is thought, as Malahski and his comrades were regarded as exceptionally clever.

Dishwashing Robbed of Its Terrors

No More Rough, Chapped Hands or Greasy Dishes When Borax Is Used.

Dishwashing is the bugbear of most housekeepers. It is a three-times-a-day worry and nuisance to all housekeepers who do not use Borax. Those who do use Borax have no fears of rough, chapped hands. Besides their dishes are always sparkling clean and free from grease.

It is much easier to use Borax than not to use it; it does not cost anything to use, but saves money by cutting down the soap bill. It's the Borax with the soap that does the work. Use Borax in dishwashing this way: Fill the dish-pan with hot water, using any good soap, and add a tablespoonful of Borax and wash in the usual way. This will make fine suds, cut the grease, remove all traces of dirt and leave them hygienically clean. 20-Mule Team Borax in convenient 100 and 150 packages. Send a postal to the Pacific Coast Borax Co., 1550 McCormick Building, and they will send you a helpful book, "The Magic Crystal," showing the way to easier and better housekeeping.
